coast had been almost entirely interrupted. In consequence of the unprecedented floods, the overland mail could not run. Commerce was much injured in consequence. The line of ships plying from New York to Panama had decided that they would not &C. &C. carry the government mails nor dispatches. This was an outrage on the government and the commercial community. This very company had received ten millions from the government, and now they take the oppor-tunity to force the mail contract from the government. Great Britain.—In the House of Commons on the 20th ult., Mr. O'Donahue moved for a return of the British vessels, of their Captains and owners respectfully that have succeeded in running the American blockade, also for similar return of British vessels captured or destroyed in the attempt to break the blockade, and return of the number of Britsh vessels that have put into Nauhua and other colony ports with contraband of war and supplies for the Con-erate States, and that have been permitted Mr. Davis introduced a bill granting pay, to refit and supply themselves at those pensions and bounty to the volunteers and places, in contravention of the Queen's proclamation of neutrality. He strongly censures the Government for not having for carrying the mails of the United States to foreign ports. Mr. S. said for the last few months communication to the Pacific Mr. Ledyard said that it would be scarce.

Mr. Ledyard said that it would be scarce-ly convenient that he should enter into a discussion of the blockade, which would come on more regularly when there was a lution of it, of which notices had been moved. He must, therefore, decline to consent to the return for two reasons. In the first place, the government had not yet the information sought for, and in the second place, if they had, it would not be their office to furnish a list of wrong-doers and violators of the law. The papers relative to the blockade would probably be laid on the table on the 25th inst., and would contain a statement of the number of vessels which had broken the blockade, and perhaps their tonage, and he hoped the information would satisfy Mr. O'Donahue.

SPECIAL CEDER FOR 101 O'CLOCK. Mr. Speed—Banks—Reported the Senate bill as a substitute for the House "bill concerning the banks of issue of Kentucky."
[This is the one million toan bill mentioned in our report of March 4th; the amount to be divided equally among the ten Congressional districts, and allowing the banks to pay out United States Treasury notes in redemption of their circulation, &c. The only material difference between this sub stitute and the House bill is that the Senate bill leaves out the proviso requiring the banks to receive at par treasury notes for all debts and demands created under this

Mr. Grover offered the following proviso as an amendment to the substitute of the committee, viz: "Provided. That the banks shall, at par value, receive said treasury notes in payment of any and all debts and demands due and owing to them created under the pro-visions of this act." Mr. Grover advocated his amendment at length, and opposed the substitute of the Bank Committee, unless so amended.

Mr. Speed replied to Mr. Grover, and opposed the proviso, and urged the adoption of the substitute of the committee to the House bill. The proviso offered by Mr. Grover was rejected, by yeas 12, nays 13. Mr. Alexander offered an amendment to the substitute requiring the banks to re-ceive treasury notes "so long and no longer as said notes shall be and remain a legal tender, under the laws of the United States." Adopted. The substitute was further amended by a verbal correction, and as amended was adopted in lieu of the House bill. The bill, as amended by the adoption of the substitute, was then passed.
